

The Yale Expositor.

J. A. MENZIES, Publisher.

YALE, MICH

California is shipping wheat to Australia, where it is 79 cents a bushel.

Never too late to learn. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, who is just 80, is learning to play the piano.

The Dallas News criticises a Texas jury that "considered it a mitigating circumstance that a murderer lost his temper."

Now that burglars have been found among college boys the moral tendencies of football will not be so seriously discussed.

The will of the Rev. S. F. Smith, author of "America," was filed last week. The estate amounted, to $45,000, one-third in real estate.

Attorney-General Hancock, of New York, is after the tobacco trust, and there are encouraging signs that he is going to capture it.

A Decatur football player's skull was cracked Thanksgiving day. The skulls of the majority of football fiends seem to be in about the same condition.

England sends a great many books to this country of varying degrees of popularity and merit, but James Monroe continues to be our favorite author.

Twenty-three Chinese belles from the Atlanta beauty show are now on their way back to the Flowery Kingdom. They are said to be "stunners"—in wooden shoes.

It is pleasant to see a woman carve, if she does it deftly.—Good Housekeeping. It is pleasant to see a woman do anything that she can do gracefully and successfully. Carving forms no exception.

No matter where gold fields are discovered, England at once sets up the claim that they are within her territory. She is trying to gerrymander the nations of the earth so as to corral all the yellow metal.

If these young people who are afflicted with unrequited affection would leave prussic acid and other poisons alone and try a few grains of common sense the cure would be just as speedy and much less painful.

The recent squeeze in the Parisian money market nipped Mrs. Castellane's purse for 1,000,000 francs. If Jay Gould wasn't dead, this would have killed him. How inscrutable, indeed, are the ways of Providence.

A Michigan woman has humbled her father-in-law and secured $3,044 from him for alienating her husband's affections but up to date the proud crest of the mother-in-law waves triumphantly over the matrimonial field.

Ex-Superintendent Byrnes, of the New York police, has signified his intention to come over and meet the bribery charges recently preferred against him. He might effect arrangements to make the trip with Dunraven.

The Philadelphia Bulletin formulates "thirty-nine cases in which white men have been lynched in the United States during the past year. It is a disease that is spreading. Deluded white men who have been amusing themselves by lynching negroes will be called more and more to take some of their own medicine.

An old Russian merchant left a will bequeathing 10,000,000 rubles to each of his four nieces, provided they put in fifteen months continually as chambermaids, cooks, or laborers. Before their fifteen months were up they had registered over 800 offers of marriage, many of these from Russian noblemen and men of the best class. It is a good pointer for all girls who do not know how to do anything.

The railroads charge more to bring potatoes from South Dakota to Chicago than the potatoes are worth, and of course they are not bringing many. This may not be news to our good friends in South Dakota, but we thought we would mention it for the benefit of those who are fortunate enough to live near railroads that do not want the earth and all that grows in it.

By way of a parting compliment to this country, Mr. Keir Hardie said that the Englishman enjoys greater liberty than the American; and he also said that he had seen more misery and poverty in our great cities than exist in London. Mr. Keir Hardie did not explain the remarkable phenomenon presented every year of several hundreds of thousands of intelligent human beings abandoning the larger liberty of British rule and the better comforts of British life to choose the hard and inferior conditions of this country. What would Hardie and our critics generally say of us if the tide of emigration ran the other way?

Seventeen crews have been laid off the Iowa and Dakota division of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, occasioned by farmers holding their grain for a rise in price. They claim that the prevailing price of corn does not pay them for work in husking and marketing. It is now being quite generally used for fuel in lieu of coal.

Six of the South African millionaires are believed to own $195,000,000 between them. Alfred Beit is the richest, with $60,000,000, Mr. Barnato has $50,000,000, and Cecil Rhodes $25,000,000.

GENERAL NEWS.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS FROM MANY SOURCES.

The Powers Renew Their Demands for Permission to Pass the Dardanelles With Extra Guardships—Said Pasha Flees From the Sultan's Wrath.

London: The Times has a dispatch from Constantinople which says that the embassies have received instructions from their respective governments that the guardships question must be pushed home, and that it is impossible for the powers to retire from the position which they have assumed.

This indicates that the powers have decided that extra guardships must pass through the Dardanelles and the sultan has been asked for the last time for the firmans. A time limit was given for a reply and the alternative was that the passage would be forced. When Great Britain threatened to take this course if the firmans were not granted, the sultan appealed personally to the governments of Russia, Austria, Germany and France, begging them not to press their demands, but met with no success. The Russian government replied that it would sound the cabinets of France, Germany and Austria, and did so, but received nothing but unfavorable replies, of which he informed the Turkish ambassador. Thus, apparently, the sultan was shown that he no longer has a backer in Europe. There have been frequent cabinet councils at the sultan's palace and several exchanges of communications with the representatives of the powers, but no decision seems to have been arrived at. The existence of a cabinet crisis has long been commented upon. Said Pasha, the president of the Turkish council of state and formerly grand vizier, has taken refuge in the British embassy at Constantinople, believing himself not only to be in danger of arrest, but fearing for his life. All the Turkish ministers stand in great apprehension of being summarily dealt with by the sultan. Seeing the meshes of the European net drawing closer and closer around him every day, Abdul Hamid is described as being frantic with impotent rage and likely to wreak vengeance upon any or all of his ministers.

There are more rumors in circulation regarding the massing of Russian troops on the Turkish frontier and the gathering of a Russian fleet near the Bosphorus. It has been reported that several Russian war vessels have been sighted off the Black coast of Turkey, and nobody would be astonished to see Russia's extra guardship steam into the Bosphorus from the east at about the same time that Great Britain's extra gunboat passes the Dardanelles.

Later Reports from Asiatic Turkey. A massacre has occurred at Hassan Kahleh in the vilayet of Erzeroum, where the Armenian monastery was sacked and burned and the bishop and vicar and other inmates were killed.

Over 200 Armenians were killed in Cesarea. The Armenians are now barricaded in their homes, and are in fear of being massacred. The news is also among the Christians of Jerusalem and Beyrout.

The situation at Bitlis causes renewed anxiety among the missionaries as many alarming reports of rioting and bloodshed are in circulation. A dispatch from Marash says the American missionaries there are safe, but the mission buildings were attacked by Turkish troops and a number of the inmates killed.

Letters from Aleppo state that even the most vague reports of the outbreaks or threatened outbreaks in or about that city cause panics among the Christians, who are so in dread of being massacred that at the first note of alarm they hastily close up their stores and seek refuge in their houses, where they have made all preparations possible to defend themselves.

Turkish officials at Erzeroum, Erzingan, Balirout and Bitlis force the Armenians, under penalty of torture, to sign addresses of gratitude to the Turkish government for the "protection" during the recent "disorders."

The police of Constantinople are again arresting Armenians and transporting them in batches to their own country on the plea that they are a menace to the peace. Over a thousand Armenians have thus been expelled. It is understood that the advance upon Zeitoun may be expected at any time, and the Armenians who are in rebellion there will be shown no mercy.

The W. C. T. U. district presidents of Michigan held a conference at Lansing which was full of deep interest.

The administrative council of the G. A. R. fixed the date for the next national encampment as September 1-4, 1896, at St. Paul.

A fire in the heart of the wholesale business section of Indianapolis burned out eight large establishments with a total loss of $500,000, insured for $300,000. Two firemen were killed and two badly hurt by falling walls.

Investigation among the miners of central Pennsylvania shows starvation stalking among them already and a certainty of terrible suffering unless they receive work or help. Of the 10,000 men, hundreds of families are in absolute destitution.

An explosion of nitro-glycerine at Humes' torpedo factory, near Butler, Pa., completely demolished the factory and two storage magazines and killed Lowery Black and George Rester, two employees, who were throwing a can of the stuff. The concussion shook houses and shattered windows for miles around. About 1,000 pounds of glycerine exploded.

A brother of Conductor Matthews, of West Bay City, was killed by the cars some time ago. In his pockets were some silver pieces. The car wheel passed over a silver dollar in such a way as to press a 25 cent piece into the dollar. This marked coin was kept by Conductor Matthews as a pocket piece and when his room was robbed several nights ago, this coin was stolen. Officer Davis traced it to a Bay City saloon and arrested John Vero and Wm. Hildebrand, who are now in jail, charged with the robbery.

President Cleveland has gone for a duck hunting trip in North Carolina.

DOINGS OF THE STATESMEN.

SENATE.—Second day.—The galleries were well filled and the 30 senators plunged right into business. The President's message was read and was listened to with a great deal of attention. At its conclusion Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, offered a resolution in various terms reaffirming the principles of the Monroe doctrine, and presenting them in such form as to permit the enactment of a permanent law, rather than an expression of the policy advocated by President Monroe. In the same line was a resolution by Mr. Chandler, of New York, and another by Mr. Allen, of New York. At the brief executive session the nominations of Mr. Olney as secretary of state and Mr. Harmon as attorney-general were confirmed and that of Rufus H. Packham to the supreme bench referred to the judicial committee. Senator Stewart, of New York, created laughter by introducing his time-honored bill for the free and unlimited coinage of silver. Mr. Call, Dem. Fla., introduced the following joint resolution: "Resolved, That the government of the United States recognizes a condition of public war between the governments of Spain and the government proclaimed and for some time maintained by force of arms by the people of Cuba, and the United States of America hereby declares that they will maintain a strict neutrality between the contending powers and accord to each all the rights of belligerents in the event of the United States of America." The congress of the United States protest and remonstrate against the barbarous manner in which the war of Cuba has been conducted, and the President is hereby authorized to take such steps as may be expedient in his judgment to secure an immediate cessation of hostilities and the withdrawal of the United States from the conflict. Among the large number of bills offered by Mr. Peffer, Pop. Kas., were those limiting the President's term to six years, without re-election; repealing all laws permitting the issuance of bonds; the limitation of the power of injunction; Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., offered a concurrent resolution for the immediate recognition of the Cuban insurgents; the extradition of all island purveyors of the arms of the Cuban revolution; the annulment of the Monroe doctrine, and a firmer foreign policy respecting the protection of American citizens abroad. The House was very brief, and was consumed entirely by the reading of the President's message, and the features of the document received no sign either of approval or disapproval from the members. The conclusion of the reading, when several Democrats made a slight demonstration. When it was finished the President's message was read.

Third day.—Most of the business transacted was of a routine character. Mr. Hoar showed a disposition toward co-operation with the President in dealing with the Cuban question by offering a resolution denouncing the recent atrocities in Turkey and assuring the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the disorder prevailing. The first formal speech of the session was made by Mr. Allen, Pop. Nev., on the Cuban question. He denounced the executive of the cordial indorsement by congress of the measures for the protection of American citizens in Turkey and the suppression of the barbarities against Christians in that country. The resolution was adopted. The House then passed a resolution relating to Turkey. The resolution makes specific inquiry as to what American consular officers have been doing by reason of the